Crash till the bitter end! Everything goes that is highly illegal on normal streets: cutting up, speeding, shoving and ramming – without windscreens and MOT, but with helmet, protective collars, roll bars and window grilles. Wok World Champion Stefan Raab once again announces a spectacular "TV total" event: "Die große TV total Stock Car Crash Challenge".

Ten celebrity teams, each with three drivers, literally compete against each other in modified serial cars – hood to trunk, door to door. This will be a merciless race, with breathtaking duels, hair-raising crashes and spectacular rollovers all thrown in. And it will all be judged by a strict battle jury. Those who survive the first heat on the dusty track enter the next round. The most daring can acquire further precious points in the second discipline, the "Pileup". In addition to Raab, watch Elton, Oliver Pocher, Katy Karrenbauer, Marcellinho, Jana Ina and many more rev those engines.

The venue for "Die große TV total Stock Car Crash Challenge" is the Arena AufSchalke. Which one of the contestants will successfully pass the finishing line with their heap of metal? And whose Stockcar will be ready for the scrap yard? Will Stefan Raab secure himself a further title?

Tickets for the live spectacle are available on www.tvtotal.de, www.arena-aufschalke.de and – from April 27 – also by phone on Tel. 01805/15 08 10 (daily between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m., Saturdays between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.).
