Substantial rise in the number of hits for “Die Wochenshow” and “TV total” Websites in April

Cologne, May 11, 2001: the Website www.wochenshow.de and www.tvtotal.de are the most visited sites within their genre, according to the latest figures published by the IVW regarding Website performances for the month of April.

The Website of the successful TV comedy format “Die Wochenshow” registered 742,000 visits and in excess of one million page impressions – almost 52% more than in the month of March.

“TV total” is also able to thank its fans on the Internet for a considerable increase in visits to its Website. In April, the hugely successful TV format with Stefan Raab registered 43% more page impressions than in the previous month. With 3,250,000 visits and more than eleven million page impressions, tvtotal.de is the most popular comedy Website.

Both TV Websites were produced, and are maintained, by e-tv GmbH, a fully owned subsidiary of BRAINPOOL.
